

"THE SIGN OF THE CROSS" William Farnum, in a superb reproduction of William Barbery's play of the Cross," will be the first at the Grand to-morrow, and Saturday. The play, in fact, a work of the imagination comprehended and carried out in realities that inspired it.
The story of paganism into sharp contrast the primitive simplicity of Christianity, even discloses the riot and the mad indulgent Rome, as it was the very first of the ascent to the first of its inception, this play justified by a work of art.

Before the play had been staged it was on the stage had been reproduced in America. From the first it poured a stream of enthusiasm throughout many cities, and its popularity has continued increased, until to-day the drama
